

It seems a shame to have fought a war to defend democracy in Iraq when we are selling it out here. I know the fix is in. The corporations will have their way, public be damned. But if the free press is handed over to the greedmeisters, I will begin a grass roots movement for a constitutional amendment to fight it.